

Torrent Cash: An interview (Part 1)

20 answers to get you making money with Torrents today!

Introduction

This presentation will take you through twenty of the most asked questions users have when it comes to making money with/through torrents.

Not tech savvy? Doesn't matter! Don't know what Torrents are? Doesn't matter!

Read on and find out how easy it is to earn upwards of $1000 per month using only an hour a day (or less).

1. So as a part of the new release of Torrentator I want to give my users a chance to experience first hand how people are making money with torrents. You seemed like a good choice.

To start, what's your name and/or online handle?

Most people know me by Scope. I've been around for a little while and am now making $1500 per month, in part thanks to you and Torrentator.. ;)

2. That's awfully nice, but we'll get into that later. Ha. For now, tell us how long have you been using Torrents as a way to make money online?

I've been a torrent uploader for four years, but only started making money off them in September.

3. And if you could, tell us what's your primary method that has proven successful? Tips, methods etc. would be helpful.

I mainly upload apps. I look at the piratebays top 100 for apps and spread everything. Sometimes I even make versions of apps up just so people will download them. It works so why not right. Oh and password locking is the easiest and most effective way to make money. Nothing too complicated just password locking. Basically I do the same things as in your tutorial you provided with the program but just do greater quantities of torrents every day.

4. You mentioned earlier that you almost doubled your income recently, what caused this dramatic change, and is it anything our users can replicate?

Well it takes persistence and some time. I have some automated programs that some users will not have because it was coded privately by a friend of mine. For the most part I upload as many things as I can do in a day. Usually 10-30 torrents works well. Also finding a category that works well for you is important too so that way you can see what type of traffic converts and pays out the best.

Torrentator opened many new opportunities for me. Before I didn't have the time to upload 20 torrents a day. This program saves so much time it's almost ridiculous.

5. I'm blushing.. sounds a little bit technical. Is it?

Not at all. It's just a matter of how hard you will work. Once you have a cycle down you can start cutting time back and eventually it will take an hour a day to make 50$ a day. It's a process; an easy process.

6. I suppose it becomes a quantity game. The more the merrier, and once you have the system down, it's scaleable. Now.. onto the more technical stuff.

We've had users trying to understand how to use torrents, seed them, what they are etc. Are there any suggestions you could provide in regards to correctly seeding torrents / uploading.

Make sure you have good trackers. And that your ports are open. To open ports just open your DMZ which is in your router. I always put force seeding on and allow high bandwidth. I use uTorrent and have been for 4 years.

7. Which kind of files do you upload and/or find work the best with the strategies outlined earlier? People are known to upload video trailers, photos, even eBooks. Any preferences?

Trailers still work very well. apps and that makes me my most money. You don't need a fancy description just get apps that are popular and upload every one you can that's what I do. Also eBooks are good, particularly if you have affiliate links inside. Porn usually does well because the people downloading it just want to watch it and will do anything in order to get that video if you know what I mean...

8. I think we all know what you mean.. ;) Now, one of the most annoying parts is actually finding a reliable network to use. Which affiliate/CPA networks have you found work the best with the strategies you use?

I recently switched to blam ads and their locker is really good for torrents. They also payout on time and the AMs are very helpful. I set my locker settings to highest payout and it seems to be working well for me. For beginners though I recommend sharecash. That's where I started. It's very easy to use and understand as where blam ads you need your own landing page and everything.

9. Gotcha. Is there anything users need to keep in mind when registering for these networks?

Yes, many people may be wondering which networks allow torrent traffic as many do not. First off I would like to inform the new torrent users here that you will get a massive variety of traffic. Meaning that almost every country will download something from you. With that said blamads is a great network to use. They have a content locker which is perfect for torrents, and they have a massive variety of offers...

9. Gotcha. Is there anything users need to keep in mind when registering for these networks? (Continued)

...Be very careful when registering anywhere else because they WILL ban you if that type of traffic is not allowed. Sharecash does technically not allow copyrighted files but just upload the password in a txt file to their server and they will never know the difference. They really aren't that strict as long as you don't fill out your own stuff like an idiot.

10. I think it's safe to say that you generally.. want to avoid being an idiot. But, that makes sense. Keep it on the DL eh? Now, before we take an intermission let's touch on the proxy debate. Some people use them, others not so much...

Do you use proxies / identity cloaking tools when uploading torrents?

Well, I use VPNs to create the accounts when I don't manually feel like changing my IP, but for most sites I never get banned because they aren't really moderated. When actually uploading I don't bother cause theres really no point, If you can change your IP manually once in a while you will be fine. If you can't change your IP then I would definitely recommend hidemyass VPN. They have 15,000 IPs for $11 a month. That's pretty good!
